Performance data quoted represent past performance, which does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Effective June 30, 2016 the Pax Growth Fund (the "Predecessor Fund") was renamed the Pax ESG Beta Quality Fund (the Fund). The Predecessor Fund is treated as the survivor of the renaming for accounting and performance reporting purposes. Accordingly, all performance and other information shown for the Fund for periods prior to 6/30/2016 is that of the Predecessor Fund.

The Pax ESG Beta Quality Fund's investment objective is to seek long-term growth of capital.

Factor investing, also known as smart beta, is strategy wherein a portfolio of securities is over weighted, or tilted, toward certain factors –rather than market capitalization – in an effort to mitigate risk and/or deliver above market returns.

^oFigures include reinvested dividends, capital gains distributions, and changes in principal value.

^o Inception of Class A shares is May 1, 2013. The performance information shown for Class A represents the performance of the Individual Investor Class shares for the period prior to Class A inception. Class A Inception date return since May 1, 2013 is 11.93 (annualized). Class A: A 1.00% CDSC (contingent deferred sales charge) may be charged on any shares sold within 18 months of purchase over $1 million.

[†] Inception of Institutional Class shares is April 2, 2007. The performance information shown for Institutional Class shares represents the performance of the Individual Investor Class shares for the period prior to Institutional Class inception. Expenses have not been adjusted to reflect the expenses allocable to Institutional Class shares. If such expenses were reflected, the returns would be higher than those shown. Institutional Class Inception date return since April 2, 2007 is 7.42 (annualized).

^{*}The Russell 1000 Index measures the performance of the 1,000 largest U.S. companies, as measured by market capitalization. It is a subset of the Russell 3000 Index, which measures the largest 3,000 companies. The Russell 1000 Index is comprised of over 90% of the total market capitalization of all listed U.S. stocks. One cannot invest directly in an index.

[‡]The Lipper Multi-Cap Core Funds Index tracks the results of funds that, by portfolio practice, invest in a variety of market capitalization ranges without concentrating 75% of their equity assets in any one market capitalization range over an extended period of time. Multi-cap core funds typically have an average price-to-earnings ratio, price-to-book ratio and three-year sales-per-share growth value, compared to the S&P SuperComposite 1500 Index. The Lipper Multi-Cap Core Funds Index is not what is typically considered to be an "index" because it tracks the performance of other mutual funds rather than changes in the value of a group of securities, a securities index or some other traditional economic indicator. One cannot invest directly in an index.

²The management fee is a unified fee that includes all of the costs and expenses of the Fund (other than taxes, charges of governmental agencies, interest, brokerage commissions incurred in connection with portfolio transactions, distribution and/or service fees payable under a plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act and extraordinary expenses), including accounting expenses, administrator, transfer agent and custodian fees, Fund legal fees and other expenses.
