

Investing for impact and performance

A vast body of research<sup>1</sup> shows that businesses perform better when they have more women in decision-making roles, but now we have even better evidence of that phenomenon — the five-year results of our own Fund.<sup>2</sup>

The Pax Ellevate Global Women's Leadership Fund was the first broadly diversified global mutual fund to invest in the highest-rated companies in the world for advancing women's leadership, and today it's the largest, with more than $350 million in assets under management. The Fund invests in companies that understand the value of gender-diverse leadership teams, which has resulted in an impressive track record at its half-decade milestone.

Engaging with companies on pay equity and board gender diversity

When it comes to impact investing, careful scrutiny is crucial, but we don't stop at analysis – we engage. Through proxy voting, company dialogues, shareholder proposals and public policy advocacy, we help companies understand how they can become better poised to take advantage of the benefits associated with gender-diverse leadership.

Gender Pay Equity

We encourage the companies in our portfolios to become gender pay equity leaders. We ask them to conduct pay equity assessments, disclose the results and commit to closing any gender pay gaps that exist. We have also petitioned public policymakers to require public companies to disclose gender pay ratios annually.

Board Diversity

Board diversity is one of our priority engagement areas. We vote “no” on all-male boards, and we ask companies to implement policies and practices to achieve greater board diversity. We also ask them to formally institute diversity and inclusion policies and to report on progress to shareholders in annual proxy statements.

1,200	Between January 2010 and June 2018, Pax World Funds voted against more than 1,200 board slates due to insufficient gender diversity
255	During the most recent proxy season, Pax World Funds voted against directors at 255 companies due to insufficient gender diversity
156	In 2018, we signed onto a letter sent to 156 U.S. companies with no women or only one woman on the board to determine what steps they are taking to diversify
14	14 companies have made public commitments to pay equity at our urging
10	10 companies have disclosed the results of their pay equity assessments and have committed to closing pay gaps at our urging

RISKS: Equity investments are subject to market fluctuations, the fund's share price can fall because of weakness in the broad market, a particular industry, or specific holdings. The Fund does not take defensive positions in declining markets. The Fund's performance would likely be adversely affected by a decline in the Index. Investments in emerging markets and non-U.S. securities are generally less liquid and less efficient than investments in developed markets and are subject to additional risks, such as risks of adverse governmental regulation, intervention and political developments. There is no guarantee that the objective will be met and diversification does not eliminate risk.
